LET UNCLE SAM GIVE YOU THE FACTS

Government reports show the steady output of coal during the last few years has made the dealers push for wider markets. We are going to get more trade—your trade—by giving you a greater value for your money.
You will never get out of debt unless you buy wisely.

CLASS OF 1912

Brilliant Program Marks Maysville High School Commencement

Twelve Graduates Given Diplomas
and All Acquit Themselves With Honor

"FORTUNA LABORIS CORONET"
The closing exercises of the Maysville High School, always the grand finale of a season of hard and faithful endeavor of teachers and pupils, is the climax both of the school year and the graduation term.

Every year the Commencement grows in work, scope and importance, and we have only to compare the Commencement of ten years ago with that of last evening to see that we have grown in Education far and beyond any expectations, or the commercial or material advancement of our city.

If a city is known by its schools, Maysville is entitled to stand in the front; not in mere size and completeness of buildings and equipment, but also by right of the high standard of excellence and the educational stamina and morale which our worthy and masterly Superintendent, Professor Bradner, and his able and faithful co-workers, the Board of Education, and his splendid corps of teachers, have supplied.

The auditorium was crowded last evening and the stage appropriately garlanded and decked with living plants, flowers and vines and formed a fitting setting for this enjoyable graduation scene.

Following a brief prayer by Rev. Roger L.
Clark and a chorus from the Girls' Glee Club, the program opened, and from invocation to benediction all went off well and to the great honor of scholars, teachers and patrons.

Following were the twelve graduates, nine boys and three girls:

John Robert Marsh,
First honor graduate.
Clay Sulser Smith,
Second honor graduate.
Thomas Benjamin Allen,
Joseph Nicholas Calvert,
Francis Wadsworth Clarke,
Harry Vincent Ellis,
Abe Davis Galanty,
Abby Picklin Porter,
Roy T. Tully,
Bessie Bauer,
Mary Hanley,
Thelma Hayden Kirk.
The orations of the twelve graduates were all good; some very good.

Superintendent Bradner, who was master of ceremonies, in closing the Commencement dwelt upon the evolution of the Maysville Public Schools. He and all are justly proud of Maysville's educational uplift.

The class of 1912 is the first to graduate in our High School with the full four years course.

Every feature of the exercises was exceptionally fine.
Presentation of Scholarships—J. E. Caldwell, Principal High School.
Presentation of Diplomas, R. A. Cochran, Treasurer Board of Education.
Benediction by Rev. J. H. Fielding.

GEORGE COX MILLER.
Mr. George Cox Miller, formerly of this city, grandson of the late Chas. B. Hill and nephew of Mrs. R. B. Lovel, died Sunday, June 9th, at El Paso, Texas. His remains will probably arrive here Sunday and will be taken direct from the depot to the Cemetery and will be buried by the side of his parents. Messrs. Joseph D. and Frank H. Miller of Chicago, brothers of the deceased, are here awaiting the arrival of the remains.

TAFT 159; ROOSEVELT 13

CHICAGO, June 13th.—Eight delegates for Roosevelt and eighteen for Taft marked the day's gains of the two chief rivals before the Republican National Committee.
It was a day of Roosevelt victories, but victories were achieved with the full acqui-esence of the Taft majority in the National Committee.

At the end of a week of constant work over the contested delegations the committee has given President Taft a total of 159 delegates and Roosevelt a total of 13.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

The Colonel has hastened to shy his hat in the ring for woman suffrage. Its difficult to imagine anything this man wouldn't do to attain the Presidency.

The price of the exclusion of the American flag from the high seas is the three hundred millions of dollars which we pay every year to foreign ships for carrying that American freight which we refuse to handle ourselves. The remedy is to be found in some form of Federal assistance. Any direct subsidy is distasteful to the American people, but an effective relief could be found in the system of preferential duties advocated by Congressman Sulzer in the bill now before Congress.

The Board of Appraisers at New York rendered a decision in the wood pulp case, sustaining the contention of the Government that the "favored nation" clause cannot be invoked as Canada is a colony and not a nation, state or country, within the meaning of the treaties. From this decision the importers of wood pulp from other countries than Canada have appealed to the United States Court of Customs Appeal. Because of the international importance of the case, several European governments having filed claims for the favor accorded to Canada, both the Government and the importers have agreed to expedite it.

A phase of the much-discussed question of the present high cost of living, not always emphasized as strongly as some of the more popular arguments, is the decrease during the last ten years of the actual acreage in America devoted to raising wheat, corn, potatoes and rice. This decrease amounts to 2.5 per cent, while the population has increased 21 per cent. Statistics such as these certainly show the need of a greater number of farms and more extensive stock raising. With the supply of domestic grain, vegetables and meat decreasing, while the population annually increases, prices must necessarily be higher, for supply and demand regulate the price. We can not build up our cities at the expense of abandoned farms without paying for it in the cost of our food supply.

THE ROOSEVELT FIASCO.

New York Times: The hearing in the contest cases before the Republican National Committee disclose unmistakably a plot to buy the presidency for Theodore Roosevelt. It has failed because of the utter incapacity of his miserable agents.

Indianapolis News: Mr. Roosevelt stands before the country to-day as the only Wall street candidate. The Steel Trust, the Harvester Trust, the National City Bank and the Rockefeller interests are behind him. No more brazen effort was ever made to capture and syndicate the presidency. "Shall the people rule?" shrieks the third term. Not if he is elected President after a series of midnight conferences between him and the Wall street magnates.

St. Louis Times: The Colonel is now willing to concede to President Taft those delegates about whose selection he howled so lustily. But he cannot be blind to the fact that his trick worked handsomely and turned the tide temporarily in his favor. It will be to the everlasting credit of the real leaders of the Republican party that they exposed the trick and placed Colonel Roosevelt in a still clearer light before the thinking public.

Wouldn't it be funny if Roosevelt landed in jail before the campaign ends?

The general business of the country does have to contend with burdens enough now without being called upon to bear an additional tax that would affect every co-partnership and every individual whose income or profits brought them within the scope of Mr. Underwood's project. If business were sedulously let alone by Congress for about ten years we are confident that the close of the decade would witness a degree of prosperity which the United States has rarely equalled.

The effort of Ollie James placing his own name before the convention as a candidate for temporary chairman is said to have been the greatest effort of his life. Ollie is some orator and the First district is justly proud of him. It seems to be a finish fight all along the line. —Fulton Leader.

And the greatest effort of his life failed to bring any results.—Boone County Recorder.

It brought forth a district organization named by himself, forced the opposition to instruct the delegates to Baltimore to vote as a unit for Champ Clark and compelled them to put Mr. James on as one of the delegates from the State at large. This looks like a pretty good days work, thank you.—Fulton Leader.

Political Pickings

San Francisco Chronicle: After all, it is the delegates that count, not Governors.

Brooklyn Eagle: The new party will be called the "T. R." party and it will stand for Teddy Roosevelt, "The Recall" and "Tommy Rot," according to how you look at it.

Albany Knickerbocker Press: If Colonel Roosevelt does not find the present campaign strenuous enough for him, we suggest that he attempt the task of emptying the ocean with a bucket

Pittsburgh Post: Perhaps, after all, when the Colonel said he would not accept another nomination he was telling a truth unconsciously.

New York Sun: Shame! It is time for somebody to stop him if he will not stop himself. This deliberate, malicious misrepresentation of the language of the President of the United States by the only living ex-President amounts to a national scandal.

Philadelphia Inquirer: Roosevelt denies that he said he would bolt, but he doesn't deny that he may.

HOW MISTER HOGAN GOT HIS.

From Corey's New York Letter in Times Star.

His mates assert that Detective John Rotchford is the Berry Wall of the force. His clothes are cut by an artist, they are pressed by reverent hands, and they are worn with appreciation. A glimpse of Rotchford is an education in the art of sartorial. An hours walk with him is better than a visit to London. He is the final authority on ties, the supreme court on gloves, the arbiter of elegance as to shoes and hosiery. And the other day Rotchford saw from a distance one Hogan, rough, purple-chopped and thick-handed, neck an utter stranger and bring him to earth. "Why is this?" asked Rotchford, mildly, when the busy Hogan looked up from his task of rifling the stranger's pockets to find the fashion plate detective leaning upon his cane and regarding him quizzically. "Are you quite certain that you know this gentleman?"

Mr. Hogan got his early training by driving a custom house broker's team down to the sugar docks. The man who can hold that job with honor is of necessity a white hope. A certain readiness and directness of speech is also required of him. Mr. Hogan replied to Mr. Rotchford vocally, and advanced upon him swinging like a barn door. The daintily gloved Mr. Rotchford side-stepped, feinted, stepped in, stepped out, used the old one-two—and Mr. Hogan crumpled to the ground, under the impression that he had just fallen off the Woolworth building. Mr. Rotchford had not even dropped his cane. By and by the wagon came. "Pal," said Mr. Hogan, prying open one eye, and speaking simply, as one man to another, "pal, are you going to appear against me in court?"

Mr. Rotchford nodded. "Pal," said Mr. Hogan, indistinctly, "do me a favor. Come to court in your old clothes. There's a lot of me gang apt to be there to pipe the man that licked Tom Hogan—and I gotta go on livin' in this town, bo."

WELL DESERVED

THE PRAISE THAT COMES FROM THANKFUL MAYSVILLE PEOPLE

One kidney remedy has known merit. Maysville people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Maysville testimony proves it reliable. Frederick Dreese, 1238 East Second street, Maysville, Ky., says: "Since I used Doan's Kidney Pills in 1908, I have not had kidney trouble. All that I said at that time praising this remedy still holds good. I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and I had a severe pain across the small of my back which interfered with my duties. When a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at the Wood & Son's Drug Store. They gave me prompt relief and I know that they are an excellent remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Strawberries!

Are now coming. With reasonable weather the crop will be FINE IN QUALITY, but not unusually large in quantity. I will have the handling of the crops of the largest and most experienced growers in the Ohio Valley. The berries will be shipped direct from the patches by express and will be placed on sale here on same days they are picked. They will be sold as heretofore by me in FULL-SIZED OR STANDARD QUART CUPS WELL FILLED, thus insuring to every purchaser the full amount contracted for. HONEST MEASURE and BEST FRUIT will continue to be my motto. Persons who may want berries during the season will make no mistake by placing orders with me. Will be sold WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Later on RASPBERRIES and OTHER FRUITS, for which there is now promising prospects for good crops, will come. I have arrangements for ample supplies of all kinds. I have laid in a very large supply of

Mason Fruit Jars and Star Tin Cans!

Quality best, prices lowest. At the specially low prices I am now making on CANNED GOODS of all kinds they are going fast. Don't let this good opportunity pass without laying in ample supplies. During the season I shall make a specialty of Fruits and Vegetables, and the best can at all times be found at my house, but nothing in my line shall be neglected. The whole stock shall be kept at the top notch, both in quality and quantity. Come and see me everybody and bring your friends.

FLAG DAY

Today "Old Glory" Waves Grand Salute to 90,000,000 Americans

Today, June 14th, is "Flag Day" and will be one of the celebrations of the year, having for its object the protection of the flag of our country from desecration.

For weeks the American Flag Association has been urging a wide recognition of Flag Day this year.

This Association is made up of individuals and flag committees from patriotic societies.

It was formed in 1897, to promote reverence for and prevent the desecration of the flag of our country.

"Flag Day," the date chosen is June 14th, the anniversary this year of the stars and stripes as our country's banner.

The flag of 1912 bears forty-eight stars.

A SPANISH ORCHESTRA WITH A WOMAN DIRECTOR.

THE Spanish orchestra, one of the leading musicals of Chautauqua week, is unique not only in the fact that the members dress in real and gorgeous Spanish costumes, but also in that the orchestra director is a woman. This organization for three years past has been upon the Chautauquas of the west and middle west. Mr. Horace V. Benjamin, baritone, will appear as soloist with this organization this summer.

CINCINNATI, LICKING VALLEY & VIRGINIA

Work of Construction to Begin Within Ninety Days From June 1st, 1912

Pittsburgh Outlook.

The surveying corps of the Cincinnati, Licking Valley & Virginia Railroad, surveying North have moved their camp from here to Butler and will reach Newport some time this week. The one surveying South is camped at Sherburne, Fleming county, and will get to Salt Lick in Bath county next week. This will complete the survey of the first division of the road from Newport to Salt Lick.

This division will be ready for the contractors in the next ninety days, as the whole line must be completed in two years from January, 1913, for there are now five great railroads fighting to see who will be the first into the great undeveloped coal fields—the L. & N., the C. & O., the B. & O., the Norfolk & Western and the C. C. & O.

It is a race to see who gets in first. Kentucky's coal fields are the finest in the world and it is the only field in this country that has not been developed. Every railroad deems it necessary to tap some good coal field for their use in the future. A hundred years from now coal will be a great factor in the commercial world.

SPORTS

Marquand won his thirteenth straight game for New York Wednesday.

Maysville has not lost a game to Lexington this season on the Maysville diamond.

Now they say that Hank O'Day is a better manager than he was an umpire. No doubt that is true, for according to the fans there never was a good umpire in the history of the game.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' on field has been increased by the addition of Frank Eldington, the hard hitting gardener from the Lexington team. Eldington is rated a first class fielder, but it was his slugging mark that made a hit with Manager Clarke.

George Jeffreys—The "Demon Judge"

A TEN-YEAR-old English schoolboy in 1658 watched a gorgeous procession of robed judges march past his father's door. He walked in to the house with the announcement that he intended to be JUDGE JEFFREYS a judge. Young as he was, the lad—George Jeffreys—was already accustomed to have his way. He bullied or cajoled his parents into giving him a costly school education and a law course that they could ill afford. Thus started a career that was to cost England many hundred innocent lives.

From the very first young Jeffreys was a man of mark. He was brilliant, strikingly handsome, and had an almost supernatural power of reading other men's minds and purposes. He took scant pains to study and never had much real knowledge of law. But his cleverness supplied what his learning lacked.

He took up criminal practice and handled cases no decent lawyer would touch. He had a genius for making influential friends. Through these friends and his own cunning he rose fast in his profession. At last he attracted the notice of the easy-going, unscrupulous King Charles II. Charles despised Jeffreys as a man, but was not above using the young lawyer to do his dirty work. A strong faction of the people were the king's political opponents. Jeffreys publicly declared himself the people's friend—and secretly worked for the king. From both factions he received high rewards.

By the time he was thirty he was a baronet and Chief Justice of England. Then he threw off all pretense of decency. His drunkenness, his insane temper, his insolence made him generally loathed. He could cry at will. Often in court he would brow beat witnesses with a volley of filthy, bitter, blasphemous sarcasm, make the jury tremble by a maniac glare of his black eyes, foam at the mouth with rage, then break into a spasm of loud laughter or into a flood of tears.

When Charles II. died without direct heir the dead monarch's younger brother took the throne as James II. Jeffreys had already curried favor with James and now rose to higher power than ever. James made him a baron and showered favors on him. It was during this king's reign, in 1685, that Jeffreys enacted his vilest crimes. The Duke of Monmouth had laid claim to the English throne and had fooled thousands of simple-minded farmers and shop folk into joining his rebellion. The uprising was crushed. The duke was beheaded. His captured followers were brought before Jeffreys for trial. Then came a horror still known as the "Bloody Assizes."

Jeffreys (first making his work easier by falsely hinting that those who pleaded "guilty" would be spared) condemned to death 220 men and boys. (Some historians say 700.) These were hanged after a mere mockery of a trial, during which Jeffreys alternately raved, cursed, drank, wept, howled with laughter and behaved in general like a madman. Even the hardest-hearted servants of the king were horrified by such slaughter—the more so since many of the condemned were innocent people who had taken no part in the rebellion. Jeffreys was ordered to be more lenient. So he sent 841 of the remaining prisoners to be sold into slavery in India and the Barbadoes and had the rest scourged or thrown into jail.

Throughout the trial he spared any one who could pay him a large enough bribe. But few of these country folk and tradesmen could raise such sums as he demanded. For his work at the "Bloody Assizes" Jeffreys was made Lord Chancellor of England. He boasted that as chief justice he had hanged more men and women than all his predecessors put together.

Three years later the English people grew tired of James II. and overthrew him. He fled into exile. Jeffreys, knowing how he himself was hated by the people, tried to get secretly out of England. He shaved off his shaggy eyebrows, dressed as a sailor and boarded an outgoing ship. But on the eve of sailing he went ashore and got drunk in a waterside tavern. A poor writer whom he had once unjustly punished recognized him.

"It is the bloody judge!" shouted the writer. The mob hurled themselves upon the disguised Jeffreys and were tearing him to pieces when the authorities rescued him. He was taken to the Tower of London and imprisoned there, until at the age of forty he drank himself to death. Though he had ten children his family soon died out. His own name, however, is still remembered and cursed throughout England.

The time to let out a link is when "they" are hoping you'll curl up!

Everybody Works But—

We had a photograph in our home once which began the merry-go-round in the morning early and stayed up late. "Dear old Dad" was at that time sitting up until 1 and 2 o'clock at night studying. At breakfast time when "tired nature's sweet restorer" was having its happiest and most scenic effect, that photograph would begin the program with "Everybody works but"—I do not dislike that song now. It is funnier than it used to be. But I hope the author got his due reward!

Next Sunday night at the Christian Church I shall try to tell you what every father ought to do for his children.

How to be Certain of Curing Constipation

Prejudice is a hard thing to overcome, but where health is at stake and the opinion of thousands of reliable people differs from yours, prejudice then becomes your menace and you ought to lay it aside. This is said in the interest of people suffering from chronic constipation, and it is worthy of their attention. In the opinion of legions of reliable American people the most stubborn constipation imaginable can be cured by a brief use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You may not have heard of it before, but do not doubt its merits on that account, or because it has not been blatantly advertised. It has sold very successfully on word of mouth recommendation. Parents are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents, and it has been truthfully said that more druggists use it personally in their families than any other laxative.

Letters recently received from M. E. Myers, Morrison, Tenn., and Ada Hammett, 118 W. Chestnut St., Louisville, Ky., are but a few of thousands showing the esteem in which Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is held. It is mild, gentle, non-irritating—not violent, like salts or cathartics. It cures gradually and pleasantly so that in time nature again does its own work without outside aid. Constipated people owe it to themselves to use this grand bowel specific. Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and name and address on a postal card will do.

RUNNING MATCH

Maysville Takes Game From Frankfort By Score of 22 to 8

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 13th.—The Rivermon defeated the Lawmakers, the Bluegrass League leaders, by the score of 22 to 8 today in the poorest exhibition of baseball seen here this year. A single, home run, two errors, followed by six singles in succession and a base on balls netted the visitors nine runs in the first, and a home run by Snyder scored another in the second.

The Lawmakers used four pitchers, all of whom were knocked out of the box, except Dugger, whose ankle was badly sprained in the sixth inning.

The score:

Piano Recital Given By the Pupils of Miss Ella Mae Murphy Wednesday Evening

Thursday's Bulletin.
One of the most delightful of the many pleasing piano recitals that have been given in Maysville this season was that by the pupils of Miss Ella Mae Murphy Wednesday evening, at her residence studio in East Fourth street, which was tastefully arranged and decorated for the occasion with ferns, palms and crimson ramblers.

There were twenty-three numbers on the program, embracing a wide variety of selections from many composers. In addition to and interspersing the numbers on the regular program, Miss Ella Mae Murphy sang very sweetly and with much feeling, to violin accompaniment by Prof. Kain, "Ave Maria" and "O, Dry Those Tears." Miss Murphy is a graduate in both instrumental and vocal music of Villa de Chantal Academy, Rock Island, Ill. She is the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Murphy. Miss Thelma Leonard drew the beautiful gold medal awarded by Miss Murphy to her class for faithfulness; a secondary prize medal was given Miss Lucille Slattery.

However, while he is unable to walk around to such an extent, he will endeavor to return to Chicago Sunday afternoon to be present at the convention which is sure to nominate President Taft.

Public SALE!

Mrs. T. Y. Nesbit, having decided to leave Maysville, has placed with us her desirable real estate holdings on East Second street, Fifth Ward, which we will offer at Public Sale, on Thursday, June 20th, 1913 at 2 o'clock p. m. on the premises. This property consists of a 2-story brick residence that has, since the advent of natural gas into our city, been converted into two beautifully appointed flats, which are modern throughout. Also the new 2-story frame house, just completed containing 6 rooms and 1 large hall on both floors, with bath, electric lights and gas. A more complete and up-to-date home is not to be found in Maysville.

At the same time we will sell the vacant lots, between residence and Walnut street, there being about 125 feet frontage on Second street, and running back 165 feet to an alley. This will be divided up into lots of equal size and be offered both separately and as a whole. Perhaps no more desirable lot of real estate has been or will be offered in Maysville for some time to come. East Second street is the street of beautiful homes, and property in this section of the city is fast passing into strong hands, and it is more than likely that within a very short space of time you will pay a high price if you own a home in this part of Maysville. Terms will be easy and satisfactory to buyers of all classes.

GRADUATING FROM SCHOOL!

Is a matter of some importance to you. It is a pretty important event in your life. You probably realize it, like other important events, you had better dress a little better than usual for it, and the best way to do that is to have a new suit—a
